

Every cell is the same controller image with different environment flags, so a measured difference is attributable to the component rather than to a code difference. The first 5 s of every workload is excluded as warm-up, and the harness warm-up requests that establish a subject's baseline are labelled and excluded from every reported rate. Seeds are fixed (GLOBAL_SEED = 42, MOCK_ADR_SEED = 42) and all service images are pinned by version tag.
